CELEBRATING UM’S FIRST BLACK GRADUATES
Save the Date:
Feb. 24-25, 2017

In February of 2017, the UM Alumni Association and Black Alumni Society will pay tribute to the University's first black graduates in a special celebratory event.

The event is a culmination of the UM Black Alumni Society's First Black Graduates Project, which aims to identify, document, and recognize University of Miami black graduates from the 1960s and 1970s, inclusive of all schools and colleges as well as undergraduate and graduate students.

Members of the First Black Graduates Project Committee are working with the University's official archives collection to chronicle this important part of our history for generations to come, and raise scholarships in honor of these individuals benefitting today’s students. The project will culminate in the Celebration on the Coral Gables campus in the spring of 2017.

The group is actively seeking volunteers for the project. Learn more and get involved.

RE-ENERGIZE YOUR CAREER IN 2016
