Message from the Dean

In this issue of the Barrister, we celebrate our Law School alumni, their many achievements and strengths, and their loyalty and support of their alma mater. Raquel Rodriguez, JD '85, was selected General Counsel by Florida's Governor Jeb Bush. Raquel, the child of Cuban exiles, graduated first in her Law School class. She exemplifies the best tradition of professionalism and service to her community and her alma mater. A long-time member of the Dean's Circle, Raquel has always found the time to support the Law School. I know you join me in congratulating her and wishing her well in her new endeavor.

We extend our congratulations and best wishes also to former Dean and Professor Samuel C. Thompson, Jr., and his wife Barbara, who accepted positions on the faculty of UCLA beginning January 2003. As Dean, Sam Thompson provided charismatic leadership to UM Law during a challenging time. He established excellent programs at the Law School, including the renowned Institutes on Mergers & Acquisitions and the award-winning Children and Youth Law Clinic. On a personal note, I thank Sam for his assistance, support and friendship during the past several years. We will miss him, and we are grateful for his commitment and service to the Law School.

We will also miss beloved Professor Robert Waters, who served nearly 30 years on our Law School faculty. I hope you were able to join the Law School community for the celebration of life service for Professor Waters on our campus at the Alma Jennings Foundation Student Lounge on October 25, which would have been his 76th birthday. We commemorate Professor Waters' life and extraordinary character in designating The James Weldon Johnson/Robert H. Waters Summer Institute in his honor.

In these pages you will find our Honor Roll of Donors, our recognition and grateful acknowledgment of our alumni and friends who have helped to support the Law School during the past fiscal year. The Law School's greatest need is for scholarships for deserving students. Your support is crucial to our ability to offer financial assistance to students, thereby enhancing the talent and diversity of our Law School community.

Each fall the Law School hosts scholarship receptions to recognize the student recipients of these awards and to honor those whose generosity makes our scholarships possible. Family representatives of scholarships named for specific donors attend a special reception to meet the students who have been selected to receive awards from their scholarships. Our students are extremely grateful to receive these scholarship awards, which often make a life-changing difference for them. You will meet some of those students in these pages.

You will also learn about a first-year UM Law student, recipient of a prestigious Reid Scholarship, who escaped from the Bosnian Serb army and eventually found his way to the United States and to our Law School; a Law School alumnus now on active duty with our armed services in Afghanistan who gave away all his books, pens and paper to a tiny Afghan school, and the UM Law professor who is helping him with his humanitarian crusade to collect books and materials for his "adopted" school; and UM Law students from H.O.P.E. (Helping Others through Pro Bono Efforts), who donated every Saturday from January to April last year to provide tax preparation assistance to low-income, elderly and disabled individuals in our community—in English, Spanish and Creole. I know you will be touched by these stories as I have been.

In addition to scholarships, your gift helps support Law School programs such as H.O.P.E.; the Children & Youth Law Clinic; the Litigation Skills Program;

Richard Milstein Receives Lawyers in Leadership Award

The Law School's Center for Ethics and Public Service presented its seventh Lawyers in Leadership Award to Richard Milstein, JD '74, on November 12 at a ceremony in the Faculty Lounge. This prestigious award honors members of the South Florida bench and bar for their service to the profession and to the community. Milstein, a shareholder with Akerman, Senterfitt & Eidson, P.A., was recognized for his professional leadership, his commitment to our community, and his zealous advocacy on behalf of others.

Among Milsteins' many community activities are his work for the SAVE Foundation, for which he recently received the 2002 Dorothy Shula Award for Outstanding Volunteerism from The United Way; the Arts and Business Counsel; Partners for Youth; the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce; the Metropolitan Dade County Cultural Affairs Council; the Dade Cultural Alliance; and the Estate Project for Artists with AIDS. He serves as a pro bono attorney for the Performing Arts Center Trust; director of the Miami Coalition for a Drug Free Community, Inc.; and co-founder of Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts. Milstein is a past president of the UMLaw Alumni Association, 1997-1998, and supports the Law School and the University as well as various legal organizations. Recently, Milstein was appointed Chairman of the Committee for UMLaw's Dean's Circle donor organization.

Created by Ethics Center director Prof. Anthony Alfieri, the Lawyers in Leadership series provides a unique opportunity for law students and others to learn about prominent community leaders and to participate with them in informal discussions about their lives and careers. Of particular interest to students is the career path which led these men and women to their respective positions; the decisions, events and experiences which have shaped them; and the encouragement and advice they offer for those about to embark on their own legal careers.

Milstein was pleased to receive the Lawyers in Leadership Award, one of dozens of honors bestowed upon him over the past two decades. He commented, "It was a great honor to be selected by the Center, particularly by the students, to represent the alumni with regard to the profession, the high standard of ethics, and the maintenance of pro bono activities while in private practice."

Past recipients of the award are former UM President Edward Foote, Joseph Klock, Jr., Ellen Catsman Freidin, Henry Latimer, U.S. District Judge Joan Lenard, and former chairman of the UM Board of Trustees Carlos de la Cruz, Sr.

The Center for Ethics and Public Service is an interdisciplinary project that focuses on teaching the values of ethical judgment, professional responsibility, and public service in the practice of law. Founded in 1996, it provides training in ethics and professionalism to the Law School and to the University of Miami as well as to Florida's business, civic, educational, and legal communities. The Center is the recipient of numerous prestigious national and state bar and bench awards.

Message from the Dean

the Professional Opportunities Program; and the Center for Ethics and Public Service. Our cover story features Richard Milstein (JD '74), recipient of the Lawyers in Leadership Award presented by the Center for Ethics and Public Service, in recognition of Milstein's service to the profession and the community. The Center for Ethics is an award-winning interdisciplinary project that focuses on teaching the values of ethical judgment, professional responsibility, and public service in the practice of law. Like the other Law School programs mentioned here, the Center depends upon gifts and donations to help continue its important work.

We are proud of the recognition and accomplishments of our UM Law alumni and friends, our talented faculty, and our students. Most of all, we are gratified by the fine men and women of our Law School community who use their time and talents to help others—from Miami to Afghanistan and everywhere in between—in the finest tradition of our profession.

I know you share our pride in our UM Law community. We thank you for the generosity that makes this possible. We hope we can continue to count on your support. Every gift counts and every gift helps.

I look forward to seeing you often in the coming year.

Best regards,

Dennis O. Lynch
Dean

Honor Roll of Donors

This report gratefully acknowledges the generosity of the many alumni and friends who provided vital support to the University of Miami School of Law. The Law School operates on a fiscal-year calendar and gifts listed in this report were received between June 1, 2001 and May 31, 2002. Every effort has been made to avoid errors, and we apologize for any that might appear. Please contact us about corrections: Office of Law Development & Alumni Relations, 305-284-3470.

THE DEAN'S CIRCLE

Membership in the University of Miami School of Law's Dean's Circle reflects a high level of commitment to the School and a shared vision for ensuring excellence in legal education. We are pleased to announce that Richard Milstein, JD '74, is chairman of the 2003-04 Dean's Circle Committee.

By making annual gifts of $1,000 or more to the Law Annual Fund, scholarships, or other programmatic activities aiding the Law School, Dean's Circle members form a partnership with alumni, parents and friends who, with the dean, students, faculty and administrators, are dedicated to ensuring that UM Law retains its place among the nation's leading law schools. Dean's Circle membership also entitles the donor to recognition in the University of Miami's President's Circle. For alumni who graduated within the past 10 years, the annual giving requirement for membership is $500 and given the name Dean's Circle Protégé.

We thank all of our Dean's Circle members for their generosity and commitment to the Law School.

"Our financial support is vital to the Law School, as our alma mater continues its tradition of excellence in legal education. I thank you for your past generosity and ask you to join me in increasing our financial support to help us reach our goal of 25 percent alumni participation. With your help, we can do it! By supporting our programs, you help ensure the growing stature of this institution and our law degrees."

“Our Litigation Skills Program is nationally recognized by major law firms and government agencies throughout the country. Utilizing small group simulations, more than 50 federal and state judges, government attorneys, and private lawyers provide constructive critique to the students. Our students regularly outperform seasoned attorneys in the courtroom.”

Maximo Santiago received an award from the Marco A. Vazquez Memorial Scholarship. Santiago, who moved to Miami from Cuba at age four, hopes to obtain his law degree concurrent with a master's degree in public health. He said, "Receiving this award was the single most rewarding experience in my academic career. I was shocked, speechless, and very emotional. . . . I'm extremely grateful to receive this award; it is a true blessing." Walter and Mirta Vazquez presented the award in honor of their late son, Marco.

Shana Zipkin, recipient of the Kluger Peretz Kaplan & Berlin Scholarship, earned degrees in theater and legal studies at Brandeis before coming to UM Law School. She intends to become a litigator. Jason Oletsky (JD '94) and Andrew Gold (JD '86) presented the award on behalf of the firm. Shana said, "The award was so unexpected; it was such a nice surprise. Everyone I've met from the firm is so nice and has made me feel so comfortable. I feel so lucky to receive this scholarship and meet these wonderful people."

CENTER FOR ETHICS & PUBLIC SERVICE

The Center for Ethics and Public Service at the University of Miami School of Law is an interdisciplinary project devoted to the values of ethical judgment, professional responsibility, and public service in law and society. Founded in 1996 under the direction of Professor Anthony V. Alfieri, the Center provides training in ethics and professional values to the Law School and the University as well as to the Florida business, civic, education and legal communities. In 2001, an AT&T $125,000 donation enabled the Center to fund three innovative ethics education programs in conjunction with the UM School of Education: "High School Ethics Partnership," "Ethics in Education Study Circles," and "Students Teaching Students." We especially thank Palmer Trinity Private School and Hunter & Williams for their ongoing support. We thank the following donors for their generous gifts in support of the Center.

CHILDREN & YOUTH LAW CLINIC

University of Miami School of Law's Children & Youth Clinic provides legal representation to poor children, primarily those within the foster care system, ensuring that they have a voice in court proceedings, and engages in impact litigation, law reform advocacy and community lawyering. The Clinic is run by faculty members and students of the School of Law and is partially funded by grants from the Florida Bar Foundation and other organizations. We recognize the following contributors to the Children & Youth Law Clinic for their generous support during the past fiscal year.

PROFESSIONAL OPPORTUNITIES PROGRAM

Throughout the years, the Professional Opportunities Program has provided numerous opportunities for students, including funding for judicial internships, law firm summer clerkships, and mentoring. In 2002, 21 students participated in POP.

The Miami office of Morgan Lewis, Counselors at Law, celebrated its commitment to the community by donating $25,000 to POP at the University of Miami School of Law and St. Thomas University School of Law. The donation was recognized at a December reception celebrating Morgan Lewis' "First 25 Years in Miami."

FALL SCHOLARSHIP RECEPTIONS

In September 2002, UM Law's Annual Scholarship Receptions were held at which Dean Dennis Lynch and Dean of Students Jeannette Hausler presented awards from over 30 scholarships to more than 200 student recipients. These receptions provide an opportunity for student scholarship recipients to meet the donors whose generosity makes these financial awards possible. The personal connection between donors and award recipients creates an important bond and a renewed commitment to the education of deserving students at the Law School. We congratulate our student award winners and we express deepest appreciation to our donors for their continued support of these important scholarships.

THE HONORABLE LENORE CARRERO NESBITT MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

To honor the memory of alumna Lenore C. Nesbitt (JD '57), U.S. District Judge for the Southern District of Florida, friends and family created the Nesbitt Scholarship for Public Service in 2002. In addition to donors gratefully acknowledged below, the UM Citizens Board played a special role in helping to fund this scholarship. Citizens Board members Steve Chaykin and Henry Burnett served on the scholarship funding committee, and the Citizens Board provided a successful challenge grant to solicit matching funds from the community, as well as creating and funding a special mailing for the scholarship.

The funding committee obtained $235,245 in gifts for the scholarship fund, with the assistance of a lead gift of $100,000 from Michael Hanzman and Michael Criden of Hanzman & Criden, P.A., of Coral Gables.

Ljubisa Pejic Wins Reid Scholarship

Winning a prestigious Harvey T. Reid Scholarship is the culmination of a perilous, life-altering journey for recipient Ljubisa Pejic.

Ten years ago, "Louie" Pejic was a high school student enjoying teenage life in his hometown in Bosnia. Then came war.

Suddenly, life was very different for Louie and his family. As Christian Serbs in a predominantly Moslem city, the Pejics soon found themselves in the unfamiliar role of a despised minority in their hometown. Louie, his father and brother became targets of persecution and harassment.

In 1993, the family was expelled from their home at gunpoint. After a 12-day trek through forests and minefields, the Pejics reached what they hoped would be a safe haven. But soon after their arrival, Louie was forced into the Bosnian Serb Army. At age 16, he was sent to fight on the front lines in the Bosnian mountains.

After two-and-a-half years of war, Louie fled to Greece. He held a series of odd jobs until he finally found work as a merchant marine—and it was this fortuitous event that led him around the world and eventually to the United States. After completing an undergraduate degree at the University of Florida, Louie was accepted into the Fall 2002 Class at UM Law and was awarded a prestigious Reid Scholarship.

Reflecting on the hardships he has endured, Louie commented, "I don't regret most of the things that happened to me. They were some of the most enriching experiences in my life, and I wouldn't trade any of it."

Louis Phillips Scholarship Fund

Established in 1992 through the generosity of the Bankruptcy Bar Association of the Southern District of Florida, this fund provides $1,000-$2,000 tuition scholarships to second- or third-year students with demonstrated need, academic merit, and an interest in the field of bankruptcy practice. The scholarship receives additional funds annually from the proceeds of the Bankruptcy Skills Workshop, which is presented at the Law School each year by the Bankruptcy Bar Association of the Southern District of Florida.

Barbara Phillips

We are grateful for the dedication and hard work of the Steering Committee which produces the annual Workshop. Members of the Steering Committee are: The Honorable A. Jay Cristol, Chief U.S. Bankruptcy Judge, Emeritus, Southern District of Florida; Douglas J. Snyder, Program Co-Chair; Jerry M. Markowitz, Program Co-Chair; and Barbara L. Phillips, Program Co-Chair, for whose father this scholarship fund is named.

OTS/ALA Scholarship

For the past four years, Office Technology Supplies (OTS), in conjunction with the South Florida Chapter of the Association of Legal Administrators (ALA), has honored UM Law students with scholarships totaling $6,000 to date. At this year's luncheon ceremony, Jeffery Kahn, president and founder of OTS, presented three $500 scholarship awards to students Marissa Altman, Chantell Vichot, and William Selinger for academic excellence. This year's reception was held at the Miami Hyatt Regency on August 21, 2002.

Kahn said offering the scholarships is a great way to give something back to the legal community. "This is our way of thanking the legal community for their support; they've helped us grow to what we are today," said Kahn. "Together with the South Florida Chapter of ALA, we are thrilled to have the opportunity to honor these well-deserving students."

Planned Giving: Tax-Wise Giving: Enjoy Tax Savings While Helping the School of Law

Current income tax deductions are available for people who include the School of Law in their estate and financial planning. Planned gifts offer you the opportunity to enjoy tax savings while helping the School of Law provide the best education, now and in the future. You may request a preliminary proposal to determine what type of contribution is attractive to you. Any inquiries made to the School of Law are confidential and without obligation. Here are a few ways to create a planned gift.

Planned Giving Through a Charitable Gift Annuity: make a significant gift without sacrificing current income

If you would like to make a significant gift without sacrificing current income, the gift annuity may interest you. The Charitable Gift Annuity is a private annuity arrangement that gives a fixed dollar payout from an investment. The minimum gift for a gift annuity is $10,000. Payout rates are based on the age of the annuitant(s) at the time the gift is made. Current one-life annuity rates range from 5.8% (age 55) to 11.5% (90 and older).

Planned Giving Through a Charitable Remainder Trust: to retain the income from their investment for life or for a term of years

Gifts that come to the School of Law at some point in the future are most welcome. One popular deferred gift technique is the Charitable Remainder Trust (CRT). The CRT is established by a person who wishes to retain the income from their investment for life or for a term of years. After the pay-out period the remaining portion in the trust is distributed to the School of Law in order to enhance its Endowment.

When trusts are irrevocable, the Federal Government allows substantial tax advantages. They include income tax deductions, capital gain tax avoidance, and estate and gift tax deductions.

Typical assets to fund CRTs are:

- Cash
- Appreciated securities
- Real estate or closely held business interests
- Other tangible personal property
- Municipal bonds and other tax-exempt securities

Making a Bequest to the School of Law

A bequest is often the largest gift a person can make to an institution like the School of Law. Through your will and estate planning, there are a variety of ways to structure a bequest in order to remember the School of Law for the future. Some ways are:

- Outright bequest of a specific dollar amount
- Outright bequest of a percentage of the estate

For more information on planned gifts, call the Law Alumni and Development office at 305-284-3470.

Susan L. Juskiewicz

Susan L. Juskiewicz has been appointed Director of the Annual Fund for the University of Miami School of Law. She has extensive experience in fund-raising for not-for-profits including museums, literary and civic organizations. Susan came to us from Bethesda Hospital Foundation where she served as Director of Development. She is a graduate of Florida State University and Nova Southeastern University where she obtained an M.A. in liberal studies.

"We are very fortunate to have Susan join our fund-raising team. She will be working closely with all of the members of the alumni association and Dean's Circle members," said Georgie A. Angones, Assistant Dean for Law Development and Alumni Relations. Susan can be reached at 305-284-4935 or sjuszkie@law.miami.edu.

Award-Winning H.O.P.E. Program (Helping Others Through Pro Bono Efforts)

H.O.P.E. Volunteers

The H.O.P.E. Fellows program offers students an opportunity to work in public interest law and make a difference in the lives of the disadvantaged. The program, directed by Assistant Dean of Students Marni Lennon, began in Spring 2000 with just two Fellowships. Last year, 15 students were able to participate at agencies including the Florida Immigrant Advocacy Center, Legal Services of Greater Miami, Florida Legal Services, and Legal Aid Society of Miami.

At its August 2002 national convention in Washington, D.C., the American Bar Association designated a recent UM Law student endeavor, the H.O.P.E./VITA project, as Rookie VITA Site of the Year. In October 2002, the Equal Justice Works Program offered its highest award to the same project.

These prestigious awards recognize the success of a very substantial UM Law/H.O.P.E. student project directed by Dean Lennon. Student volunteers spent every Saturday from January to April 2002 providing tax preparation assistance to low-income, elderly and disabled individuals in our community. The students and Dean Lennon were recognized by the ABA and the Equal Justice Works Program not only for the provision of these services, but for their extraordinary efforts in assisting the needy in three languages: English, Spanish and Creole.

Dean Lennon commented, "This project would not have been possible without the dedication and support of Legal Services of Greater Miami, Inc., which provided the site for the project, and Shannon McKenna (JD '00), an attorney with Legal Services who generously committed her time and professional guidance to our students."

H.O.P.E. is funded through donations as well as proceeds from the annual H.O.P.E. auction. To make a donation, please see the Web site at www.law.miami.edu/H.O.P.E or contact the Dean of Students Office at 305-284-4551.

Fifty-Fourth Annual Homecoming Breakfast and Morning Spirits

This year's traditional Law School Homecoming Breakfast was celebrated in a slightly non-traditional way. Following Morning Spirits at 8 a.m. in the Law School Courtyard, alumni, faculty, students, friends, and guests shared an outdoor breakfast buffet instead of the usual seated breakfast.

The UM cheer-leading squad opened the informal morning program, followed by a brief address by UM President Donna Shalala. Neal Sonnett (JD '67) served as master of ceremonies and introduced our honored guests Jose E. Martinez (JD '65), recently appointed U.S. District Judge for the Southern District of Florida, and Marcos Daniel Jimenez (JD '83), new U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of Florida.

On behalf of the Law Alumni Association, President Lewis Freeman (JD '74) presented the Outgoing President's Award to Judge Carroll Kelly (JD '89) and the Thomas Davidson III Service Award to president-elect Elizabeth S. Katzen (JD '88) in recognition of her tireless, behind-the-scenes support of the Law School.

Brief remarks were made by a representative from each Law School Reunion Class: Charles Papy III (JD '77); judge-elect Jacqueline Hogan Scola (JD '82); and John Malloy III (JD '92). Scola commented, "There really was a sense of homecoming."

The Law School gratefully acknowledges the generous sponsorship of Gibraltar Bank.

The LAA hosted a tailgate party at the Orange Bowl immediately preceding UM's victory over FSU on Saturday afternoon.

Classes of 1977, 1982, and 1992 Enjoy Reunions

UM Law School's Homecoming and Reunion Class events kicked off on Friday, October 11, with special events for the Classes of 1977, 1982, and 1992.

The Class of 1977 celebrated its 25th reunion with a cocktail party at the Lowe Art Museum. Preceding the party was a VIP tour of the new Convocation Center arranged by Paul Dee, UM's Athletic Director and a member of the reunion class. Co-chairs of the reunion were Harley Tropin and John W. Thornton Jr. Bacardi U.S.A., Inc. provided a full bar at the party, and Gibraltar Bank was a generous sponsor of the event.

The Class of 1982, the "honored class," celebrated its 20th reunion with a dinner-dance at UM's Rosenstiel School of Marine and Atmospheric Science on Key Biscayne. Bacardi U.S.A., Inc. provided a full bar on the outdoor terrace so that everyone could enjoy the spectacular sunset view over Biscayne Bay. Susan H. Aprill and judge-elect Jacqueline Hogan Scola co-chaired the event, which included a video showing of the Bar and Gavel Honor Society's Equity Playhouse 1982 program featuring several classmates in a hilarious parody of The Wizard of Oz. David Deehl served as technical director for the evening.

For their 10th reunion, the Class of 1992 held a cocktail party in the Alma Jennings Foundation Student Lounge on the Law School courtyard. Again, Bacardi U.S.A., Inc. generously provided a full bar for the party. The hard work of the reunion committee, chaired by Gary S. Lesser, produced an evening of music, reminiscence, and renewed camaraderie, with the generous assistance of classmates John C. Malloy III and Gennivieve Henriques.

The class reunion committees gratefully acknowledge the generous sponsorship of Gibraltar Bank and Bacardi U.S.A., Inc.

1982 Class Reunion—(L. to R.) Judge-elect Jacqueline Hogan Scola, Hon. Robert Scola, Marilyn Emas, Hon. Kevin Emas, Julie Feigeles.

Marilyn Emas, UM Staff and wife of the Hon. Kevin Emas, JD '82, and David Deehl.

1982 Reunion—Ralph Symons and Robin Taylor Symons

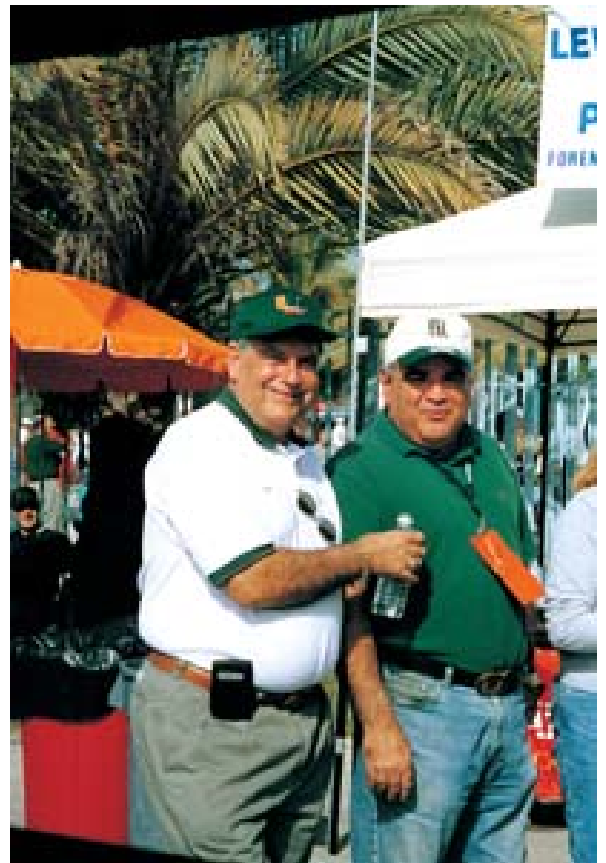

1982 Reunion—Susan H. Aprill, Co-chair of 1982 Class Reunion Committee

LAA Tailgate Party

The UM Law Alumni Association hosted a tailgate party for the UM vs. Virginia Tech football game on Saturday, December 7. Held at the Orange Bowl, the party was sponsored by Mellon United National Bank, Kozyak Tropin & Throckmorton, P.A., and Lewis B. Freeman & Partners, Inc. The game was the deciding factor for UM—the win would take them to the Fiesta Bowl and give them the chance to become National Champions for the second consecutive year.

Marcos Daniel Jimenez (JD '83), U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of Florida

In August 2002, Marcos Daniel Jimenez was sworn in as the United States Attorney for the Southern District of Florida. Appointed by President George W. Bush, Jimenez is the 49th attorney to hold this prestigious position.

Born in Havana, Cuba, Jimenez immigrated to the United States with his family at age eighteen months. As a student, Jimenez showed early promise of academic and professional excellence. A magna cum laude graduate of University of Miami, he also excelled in Law School, graduating third in his class in 1983. While a student, he was an associate editor of the University of Miami Law Review and was selected to teach legal writing and ethics and to coach moot court.

Lew Freeman presents Outstanding Alumnus Award to U.S. Attorney Marcos Jimenez during Homecoming Breakfast.

After graduation, Jimenez pursued private practice before joining the U.S. Attorney's Office in 1989 as an assistant. He rose to Deputy Chief of Major Crimes before his departure in 1992 to return to the private sector. Until his recent appointment as U.S. Attorney, Jimenez was an equity partner at the international law firm of White & Case LLP, where he specialized in complex commercial litigation and white-collar criminal defense.

Throughout his distinguished legal career, Jimenez has maintained his commitment to his profession and his community, earning recognition for his bar association work and his pro bono efforts on behalf of the disadvantaged.

Raquel Rodriguez (JD '85) Named General Counsel to Governor

Raquel A. Rodriguez has been selected General Counsel by Governor Jeb Bush, replacing Charles Canady, who resigned to accept appointment to Florida's Second District Court of Appeal.

The daughter of Cuban exiles who came to Miami in 1959, Raquel Rodriguez was born in Miami Beach and has lived in Miami most of her life. She has spent all but two years of her legal career with Greenberg Traurig LLP, a 900-lawyer international law firm with its roots in Miami. After graduating first in her class from the University of Miami School of Law in 1985, she joined Greenberg Traurig's litigation department as an associate in the Miami office and became a shareholder in 1993.

Rodriguez was one of three lead lawyers on the Miami-Dade County litigation team for the Republican Party and George W. Bush in the 2000 Presidential Election Litigation. She has written extensively on client development, selection of counsel, litigation techniques and international topics, and is a former adjunct professor at UMLaw.

In addition to her distinguished legal career, Rodriguez has served her profession and the community throughout the years. A former president of the DCBA Young Lawyers Section and a former chair of the ABA's Young Lawyers Division, Rodriguez introduced programs for the professional development of young lawyers and to increase the numbers of minorities in the legal profession. In 1996, she was a joint recipient of the Dade County Put Something Back Pro Bono Award and in July 2002 was featured as "The Achiever" by Miami Today.

Beginning in August 2002, Rodriguez joined the Litigation Department of Greenberg Traurig's Washington, D.C., office. She had been in Washington barely four months when she received the call to become the Governor's General Counsel.

"Having been asked to serve by Governor Bush is the single greatest honor I have ever received," Rodriguez said. "I am looking forward to contributing to his team as he enters his second term as our governor and to helping improve the lives of all Floridians."

Arava Mohar: Israeli Transplant Aims High

Arava Mohar is a 2000 graduate of Tel Aviv University in Israel. Deciding that she wanted to continue her academic career in the United States, she enrolled in the LL.M. program in Comparative Law in the fall of 2001 with the assistance of the Dean's International Scholarship, the Greenberg Family Scholarship made available by the Sue and Leonard Miller Center for Contemporary Judaic Studies, and the Greater Miami Jewish Federation.

Mohar graduated from UM Law in 2002 with a 3.96 GPA and was a model student throughout her time here. Her academic accomplishments include receiving the Dean's Certificate of Achievement in both International Copyright and Antitrust Law. She also worked as a research assistant to Professors Robert Rosen and Lili Levi. She is currently an academic intern at Steel Hector & Davis LLP.

"At UM I studied antitrust law, accounting, and mergers and acquisitions," she said. "My teachers were outstanding, and this background will serve me well working with international corporate clients in the United States and in Israel."

U.S. District Judge Jose E. Martinez (JD '65)

Following an application and interview process of more than a year, Jose E. Martinez was confirmed as South Florida's newest U.S. District Judge. His investiture was held on November 22, 2002.

Ironically, Judge Martinez was not interested in a legal career as a young man. As an undergraduate at the University of Miami, he earned a marketing degree in business in 1962. He then enrolled at UM Law only because his lawyer father encouraged him to do so. "My father felt that having a law degree would open up many doors for me, not just in the field of law," Judge Martinez said. "He thought it would be good training for me and my future, so I went."

His father's advice was prescient. Since he graduated from Law School, Judge Martinez has pursued a successful and varied legal career: in the U.S. Navy and the Naval Reserves; as an Assistant U.S. Attorney; in private practice; and now on the federal bench.

Judge Martinez has lived most of his life in South Florida. Born in Santo Domingo in the Dominican Republic in 1941, he lived briefly in New York before his family moved to Miami. Throughout his career, Judge Martinez committed himself to excellence in the legal profession and to the support of community and civic activities.

Judge Martinez offers this advice to those embarking on a legal career: "Don't think there's anything you cannot do. Anything you set your mind to, you can accomplish—just as I did."

Meet Sergio Gonzalez

In October 2001, UM President Donna Shalala appointed Sergio M. Gonzalez as vice president for University Advancement. In this capacity, Gonzalez works closely with Georgie Angones, the Law School's Assistant Dean for Law Development and Alumni Relations. A South Florida native, Gonzalez holds a Bachelor of Science in Foreign Service from Georgetown University and a JD from Columbia University. He served as chief of staff for Miami-Dade County Mayor Alex Penelas from 1998 until he came to the University. At UM, he plays a lead role in expanding development, alumni, and government relations programs.

Gonzalez has more than a decade of experience as a senior executive in the public sector and has led a number of important community initiatives. Prior to joining Mayor Penelas' office, he directed the county's Job Creation and Welfare-to-Work program. He previously had served as executive director of the South Florida Super Bowl Host Committee, 1996 to 1998, and as executive director of the Dade County Homeless Trust, 1993 to 1996. An attorney and member of the Florida Bar, Gonzalez practiced commercial law with Valdes-Fauli, Cobb, Bischoff and Kriss, and civil litigation with Mershon, Sawyer, Johnston, Dunwoody and Cole. He and his two children reside in Miami.

Steve Janko (LL.M. '01) "Adopts" Afghan School Project

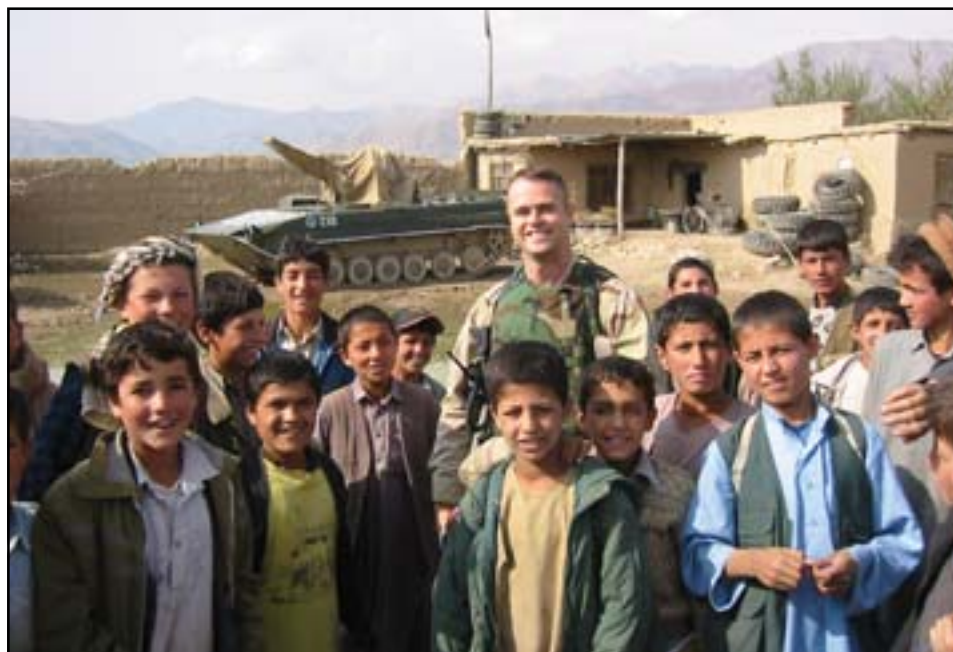

When UM Law student Steve Janko was on active duty with the U.S. Army in Kosovo in Spring 2001, his job was to assist with the humanitarian efforts of the United Nations to help war refugees return to their homes.

Janko returned to UM Law the following fall and completed his LL.M. in International Law. Shortly before graduation in December 2001, he was again called to active duty, this time to help fight the war on terror.

Janko volunteered to serve in Afghanistan, where he has been stationed since late October 2002. In Afghanistan, Janko embarked upon another humanitarian project, this one of his own invention: to bring school supplies to desperately needy children in a small Afghan school.

In an e-mail, Janko described his experience: "We dropped off some large tents at a grade school, which is basically a small, open-air compound with two small rooms. We saw about 80 kids studying outside and sitting on the ground. Many were asking for books and pens to write with. I gave out all my paper and pens. However, I ran out, which broke my heart."

Janet Stearns, Director of International and Foreign Programs at UM Law, received this information in a recent e-mail from Janko and immediately began to help with this project. Stearns has solicited books and supplies from Book Horizons, a Coral Gables bookstore, which made a generous contribution. An LL.M. student in the Comparative Law program purchased $100 of supplies with her own money to assist in the effort.

The project continues. If you would like to help, please contact the Office of International and Foreign Programs at 305- 284-5402. According to Steve Janko, "Your efforts will surely be appreciated."

Prof. Irwin Stotzky Gives Keynote Address in Norway

Professor Irwin Stotzky traveled to Bergen, Norway to present both the opening and closing keynote addresses at the Courts Workshop Bergen on November 14-16, 2002. This prestigious workshop was co-sponsored by the Fund for the Christian Michelsen Institute/ University of Bergen collaboration. The workshop's topic was the Accountability Function of Courts in New Democracies. The event drew legal scholars from around the world.

Prof. Irwin Stotzky

This was the first in a series of three planned international workshops on themes related to the role of the judicial branch in processes of democratic consolidation and social transformation.

UM Law Hosts "Fiss's Way: The Scholarship of Owen Fiss"

In March 2003, UM Law School, its Law Review, and the Student Bar Association will present "Fiss's Way: The Scholarship of Owen Fiss" in cooperation with Yale Law School. This is a full two-day academic conference addressing the scholarship of Professor Owen Fiss, Sterling Professor of Law, Yale Law School. Nine faculty members from Yale Law School will participate along with nine legal scholars from other universities and four UM Law faculty, including Professor John Hart Ely, the Richard A. Hausler Professor of Law, and Professor Irwin Stotzky, the conference organizer.

UM Law Celebrates Creation of Center for Ecosystem Science and Policy

Last year former dean and Professor Mary Doyle rejoined the faculty after completing her work as Acting Assistant Secretary of the U.S. Department of the Interior. Since her return, Professor Doyle has committed her efforts to the creation of the University's interdisciplinary Center for Ecosystem Science and Policy.

"The purpose of the Center for Ecosystem Science and Policy is to create and foster innovative, interdisciplinary initiatives designed to bridge the gap between policy and the environment," Professor Doyle stated. "While there are a number of environmental programs in universities across the country, few have chosen to integrate science and policy approaches in a balanced way. We believe that the intersection of science and policy provides an effective focus for an interdisciplinary center for environmental studies that can make a unique contribution to the field."

In January 2003, UM Law hosted two inaugural events for the new Center: the Academics in the Environment Colloquium 2003 and the Comparative Ecosystem Restoration Colloquium.

Professor Michael Froomkin Makes the Top 10

Brian Leiter has recently added the name of UM Law's Professor Michael Froomkin to his published list of 50 Most Cited Faculty Who Entered Teaching Since 1992. Professor Froomkin has cracked the Top 10, and is now listed as the eighth most cited law faculty in this category. Professor Froomkin's expertise in Internet law and technology makes him a frequently quoted source for the news media.

2003 Summer Study Abroad Programs

Professor Michael Graham, director of UM Law's summer study abroad programs, announced the new "Ultimate Summer Program" for 2003, which includes a six credit package of courses introducing law students to concepts of personal status, human rights, contract rights, and the role of the state in the Western legal tradition. An historical, jurisprudential and comparative approach will be employed. Classes will be conducted in Athens and Corfu, Rome, Paris and London.

Professor Graham also directs the Law School's summer Tour de Espana and London Summer Program, "A European Discovery." Taught by UM Law faculty and faculty from distinguished universities in the U.K., the London summer course at University College, London, is one of the best located, largest, and most attractive summer abroad programs. The Tour de Espana holds classes in Madrid, Fuengirola (Costa del Sol), and Barcelona. All UM Law summer study abroad programs satisfy the Accreditation Standards of the ABA Section of Legal Education and Admission to the Bar.

New: Spring 2003 Semester in Barcelona

Dean Dennis Lynch announced a unique opportunity for UM Law students to spend the Spring 2003 studying civil law in Spain. Under an exchange agreement with the Universitat Pompeu Fabra in Barcelona (UPF), two UM Law students, Abraham Watkins and Megan Renze, have been studying at the law school at UPF since January. Full proficiency in written and oral Spanish is required as all law courses are conducted in Spanish. "This is a truly outstanding opportunity for our students to further their proficiency in 'legal' Spanish and the study of the Spanish legal system," Dean Lynch said.

The Innocence Project Comes to UM Law

On September 27, UM Law students, faculty, and area attorneys attended a presentation at the Law School on the Innocence Project by Professor Barry C. Sheck of Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law at Yeshiva University. A co-founder of the Innocence Project, Professor Sheck has led this national movement to free wrongfully convicted people in the death rows, prisons, and jails of the United States. Following his presentation, Professor Sheck conducted a training session for UM Law students and attorneys in using Florida's existing laws to obtain DNA testing for prisoners who might be exonerated by them.

UM Law professors Jonathan Simon and Terence Anderson are working with Professor Sheck, attorney Todd Scher (JD '91) and others to establish the Innocence Project at the Law School.

Professor Robert H. Waters 1926-2002

Professor Robert H. Waters

Beloved colleague, professor, mentor and friend, Robert H. Waters was remembered October 25 at a celebration of life event in his honor at the Law School. On what would have been his 76th birthday, a standing-room-only crowd in the Student Lounge listened as friends and colleagues spoke of Waters' long and illustrious career as a leader, teacher, and friend.

A member of the UM Law faculty for nearly 30 years, and its first black faculty member, Professor Waters was remembered as a superb academic and a treasured faculty colleague. In the late 1980's, Waters founded a program to aid minority law school students named the James Weldon Johnson Summer Institute in honor of the first black lawyer admitted to the Florida Bar. At the celebration on October 25, the Institute was renamed the James Weldon Johnson/Robert H. Waters Summer Institute to commemorate Waters' dedication to his students and to the community.

George Knox, a UM Law alumnus and a member of the first group of black students at the Law School, spoke movingly at the ceremony. "Waters' presence was an inspiration to black students," he said. "Because of his wisdom, we always found a positive outlook." Knox was president of the Black Law Student Association (BLSA) at UM Law and helped recruit Professor Waters to the Law faculty in 1972.

Katrice Jenkins, a third-year law student and vice president of the Student Bar Association, was a participant in the James Weldon Johnson Summer Institute in 2000 and a speaker at Waters' service. She said, "It is truly an enigma how one man could manage to touch so many with his altruistic spirit, wisdom and brilliance."

The following night, October 26, the Black Lawyers Association honored Waters with a career achievement award at the group's Silver Anniversary Gala.

On behalf of the Law School community, Dean Dennis Lynch recently commented, "We will be forever grateful for the privilege of his friendship over the years, and we will never forget him."

professor Lori Damrosch of Columbia Law School, for a five-year term beginning in Spring 2003. Both were elected by the Executive Council of the American Society of International Law on the recommendation of the Board of Editors of the Journal.

The Journal, widely regarded as the premier scholarly journal in its field, is a quarterly publication. Congratulating Professor Oxman on this scholarly achievement, Dean Dennis Lynch commented, "Having the editorial direction of the Journal based at Miami and Columbia will, among other things, afford our students the opportunity to participate in the work of this prestigious journal."

International and Foreign LL.M. Alumni to Honor Prof. Alan Swan

At its Worldwide Reunion 2003 March 6-8 in Miami, alumni and faculty of the International and Foreign LL.M. Programs will honor Professor Alan C. Swan, renowned expert on the law of international trade, especially the GATT/WTO rules. A member of the UM Law faculty since 1972, Professor Swan will present the Keynote Address on Friday, March 7. Best known for his classes in International Business Transactions, International Economic Law, Antitrust and Contracts, Professor Swan also received the prestigious "Lawyer of the Americas" award from the University of Miami Inter-American Law Review in 1999.

Professor Swan is a member of the U.S. Secretary of State's Advisory Committee on Private International Law, the American Law Institute, and the American Society of International Law. He serves as vice chair of the Committee on International Claims of the American Bar Association Section of International Law and Practice.

Swan is the author of the leading casebook on international business transactions, The Regulation of International Business and Economic Relations. The first edition of the casebook was awarded the Certificate of Merit by the American Society of International Law as the best technical book on international law published in the United States in 1991.

Partnership for Professionalism Fall Meeting

The Honorable Phillip Bloom, of the circuit court for the 11th judicial circuit, leads the discussion along with attorneys David Stephen Hope, JD '96, and James Carlson, JD '01. Students Devang Desai, SBA president, Althea Harris, Stefan Apotheker, Trudy Browne, and Stacy Reade participated in the discussion.

Now in its fourteenth consecutive year, Partnership for Professionalism meets twice during the academic year. The fall dinner meeting was held on October 9 and the spring meeting was scheduled for March 5, 2003.

Coordinated by UM Law's Associate Dean of Students William P. VanderWyden, the program is a joint effort sponsored by the Dade County Bar Association, its Young Lawyers Section, the University of Miami School of Law, and UM Law's Student Bar Association.

Informal roundtable discussions are held during the dinner meetings, attended by approximately 100 judges, attorneys, and law students. Prepared scenarios that present issues of civility, ethics and professionalism are discussed at each table. Further information and photographs from the October 9 meeting are posted on the UM Law Web site: www.law.miami.edu.

William P. VanderWyden, JD '84, associate dean of students, coordinates the Partnership for Professionalism program for UM Law. Mary Penn, Office of the Dean of Students, graciously serves as hostess.

Continuing Legal Education at UM Law School

Mediation Services, Inc. trainers Mel Rubin and Gary Canner trained the first class of Circuit/Civil Mediators to complete the program at UM Law. The first Certified Family Mediation Training class at UM Law completed their program on February 9, 2003. The programs, co-sponsored by UM Law School's Center for Continuing Legal Education, were held on the Coral Gables campus. Rubin and Canner are both Florida Supreme Court Certified mediation trainers in circuit/civil and family mediation.

Attendees of both programs were enthusiastic about the quality of the programs and the opportunity to obtain certified mediation training without having to travel outside South Florida.

Four advanced mediator education training sessions for practicing mediators were also held in October and December 2002 to help mediators meet the new continuing mediator education requirements implemented this year by Florida's Dispute Resolution Center. Another advanced session is planned for May 3-4, 2003, at the Law School.

The spring 2003 mediation training schedule includes Circuit/Civil Mediation Training (April 4-6 & 12-13). All training sessions will be held on the UM Law School campus in Coral Gables.

The Honorable Gerald Kogan, J.D. '55, Honored at Roast

Gerald Kogan, former chief justice of the Florida Supreme Court, was honored at a “roast” organized by Phi Alpha Delta and co-sponsored by several UM Law student organizations. The event, held on November 8, 2002, at the UM Faculty Club, was attended by students, faculty, alumni, and friends of Kogan.

Although Kogan and his wife, Irene, were expecting humorous remarks in the tradition of a roast, there was one surprise: the keynote speaker, Barton S. Udell (JD '56), a friend of Kogan's since junior high school, was unable to attend because of illness. Udell's wife Barbara stepped in to take his place as speaker, admirably delivering his prepared remarks.

Following is an excerpt from Udell's speech:

How do you joke about, and roast, a guy you know so long to be a person of integrity, honor, and decency for a lifetime? Someone you love and admire? It's no simple task.

He's boring as hell. In public life for almost as long as I know him, he hasn't had one scandal, let alone an interesting one. Just hard work, perseverance and a distinguished judicial career. How much more blah can you get?

I met Jerry through debate, which my wife calls, “the football game of the mouth,” although Jerry really did play a lot of intramural sports. In debate, Jerry was the best “second affirmative” ever. You know, that's the guy who tries to put the affirmative's case back together in a final speech to which there is no rebuttal.

A debater had a little doll he called “last affirmative.” A friend asked him why, and he replied, “I call him last affirmative because he'll lie in any position in which he is placed.” As I said, Jerry was the best last affirmative I ever saw.

Jerry was so straight personally that he sometimes invited little jests. For example, he didn't eat shellfish. We used to stop at the Clewiston Inn south of Lake Okeechobee on our way [driving] to or from debate tournaments. The Clewiston Inn would have novelties like Cream of Peanut Butter Soup. As Dave Barry would say, “I'm not making this up.”

We tipped a waiter to slip a raw oyster into Jerry's vanilla ice cream. What he said and did must remain a secret given his presently exalted position. Suffice it to say that we are still talking and laughing about it almost 50 years later.

If you think I can keep a secret, you don't know Jerry. All of a sudden, out of the blue, he got interested in journalism during his undergraduate days here at University of Miami. Now why would an economics major suddenly take such an interest in journalism? Well, it just so happened that a very cute Drum Majorette from the UM Band of the Hour named Irene Vulkan was involved in campus publications.

Sneaky dog that he is, Kogan never said one word to his closest friends until he and Irene were obviously an item. Now they've been married for some 47 years. Jerry, you gave shorter sentences to first degree murderers. To this day, we're still wondering how Jerry Kogan got a girl like Irene. She must have seen something we didn't see.

You know about Jerry's career in criminal law, but no one else but me knows about his run-in with law enforcement in Chicago in the '50s. It all began when we attended an invitational debate tournament at Notre Dame University in a sleet storm.

Sharp Miami Beach debater that I was, I wore a blue suit and blue suede shoes. The sleet went right through suede like a sieve. Here we are, trying to appear cool in a very formal and imposing Student Union, and I have my shoes under a steam radiator and my socks on top of the radiator. It was then I knew the true depths of Jerry's loyalty. As any true friend would never do, he said he was embarrassed to be seen with me and walked off, pretending not to know me.

The next afternoon we had an eight-hour layover in Chicago and decided to see the town. When Will Rogers said that there is only a barb wire fence between Amarillo and the North Pole, he probably hadn't been to Chicago in January when the wind blows off the frozen lake where the North Pole relocates.

We saw a double feature and then headed to the most famous steak house in Chicago, all to keep out of the wind. Now Jerry got back at me for embarrassing him at Notre Dame. He orders the most expensive steak in the house, but he orders it well done.

Nobody ever said he was a gourmet. The waiter and I both tried to talk him out of it. At least medium, we pled. But true to a trait that has carried through Jerry's life, you don't talk him out of—or into—anything.

We saw three waiters restraining the chef, who was at the kitchen door with a meat cleaver until we left.

Now it's ten degrees colder and the wind is actually howling off the lake. We go into the world-famous Palmer House to thaw out. We overstayed our nonexistent welcome.

The house dick knew a suspicious character when he saw one, and apprehended Kogan. Since turnabout is fair play, I pretended not to know Jerry.

Jerry's first case was defending himself. As always, he talked himself out of it, but we were still expelled into the cold.

[After law school and a stint in the U.S. Army], Jerry practiced law for a while and then migrated into the State Attorney's Office. Over time, all of the competent and ambitious lawyers left and, by a process of elimination, Jerry was elevated to Chief of Capital Crimes.

As a former collegiate national debate champion, Jerry was formidable [in the courtroom]. Following a few easy wins, he never really tried any cases. Everyone was afraid of what would happen if they fought with him and all his cases pled out. He had a great reputation without actually having to go to trial.

Eventually Jerry got appointed to the bench. The criminal defense bar didn't want him to prosecute against them, and the prosecutors didn't want to face him as a defense lawyer. So they all helped him get on the bench so they wouldn't have to come up against him again.

Let me conclude by reminding you that, "Once a judge, always a judge." Jerry still has a robe.

You can rent it for Halloween or for a graduation. If you have any weddings or just want someone to stand around looking important in a gown, you can rent Jerry for a small fee.

Now that he's retired, he can always use the extra money.

ROBERT HAMRICK GREGORY, SR., died on Aug. 27, 2002, at the age of 75. After serving in World War II, he attended Virginia Military Institute and the University of Delaware before enrolling at UM Law. He was a well-respected workers' compensation attorney, practicing for over 50 years in Miami. He is survived by his wife of 49 years, Katherine O'Dowd Gregory, and five children, Robert H. Gregory, Jr., John H. Gregory, William E. Gregory, Annie Fontneau, and Tom Gregory.

Class of 1953

JOHN LUKACS died on Oct. 7, 2002, after losing his battle to cancer. Earlier, Lukacs made history when a Miami jury awarded him $37.5 million, the largest compensatory damage award ever given against Brown & Williamson, the Liggett Group and Philip Morris, after concluding that the tobacco companies caused his cancer and deceived him about the health hazards of smoking. His was the first individual tobacco case to go to trial following the class action suit in Florida two years ago. He is survived by his wife of 54 years, Yolanda, three children and three grandchildren, and three siblings.

The Honorable THOMAS A. MILLER, SR., passed away on July 16, 2002. He had been presiding as a retired judge in the criminal division in Tampa, FL.

Class of 1954

The Honorable ALLEN KORNBLUM serves as a senior judge in Palm Beach and Broward counties, having moved to Boynton Beach in 1999. Judge Kornblum is a member of the Class of 1954, who received his JD after serving five years in the Army and Air Force. He married Rosalyn Solosko in 1951, and they have two sons, Robert and Adam, and two grandchildren. Judge Kornblum practiced law in Dade County for 27 years and was appointed in 1981 to the county court of Dade County. He later moved to the circuit court, where he served in the general jurisdiction, criminal and probate divisions until his retirement in 1998. In 18 years on the bench, he was re-elected without opposition three times and was consistently rated "qualified" or "exceptionally qualified" by 93-95 percent of the members of the Dade County Bar. For 20 years he taught in the legal assistant program at Miami-Dade Community College and was an adjunct professor at UM Law for eight years. Judge Kornblum has served as a judicial director of the UM Law Alumni Association and has "loved and supported the University for 50 years and hopes to do so for a while longer."

JEFFERY A. GREEN split his summer in Washington, D.C., between the Pentagon Legislative Liaison Office and interning for Congresswoman Ileana Ros-Lehtinen of Florida.

ELISABETH PORTER completed her clinical placement as a certified legal intern with UM Law's Children and Youth Law Clinic in anticipation of her December 2002 graduation. Alumni, faculty, and students can view the Clinic's Web site as soon as the final link is complete to the UM Law Home Page.

LINDA M. RECK has accepted a position as an associate in the Ft. Lauderdale office of Greenberg Traurig, LLP, to commence after graduation.

Class of 2004

MARISSA ALTMAN taped an episode as a contestant on the "The Weakest Link," which is planned to air soon. She auditioned in January, was called back in September, and was flown out to Los Angeles for two additional audition rounds. Altman did make it on the show, although she is not allowed to mention the outcome until it airs.

YIOSET DE LA CRUZ, while pursuing her legal education, is also the mayor of Hialeah Gardens.

MICHAEL D. JACOB worked in the fall semester as an intern for the Hon. Henry Harnage, circuit court judge in the family division of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit, and will continue this internship in the spring. Jacob worked on cases involving arbitration agreements, contract law, employment discrimination, and the Florida Civil Rights Act. He interned last summer with the United States Bankruptcy Court, Northern District, Northern Division of Alabama with the Hon. Jack Caddell, and worked for a local attorney Andy Tramont in preparation of conference materials for the National Business Institute Conference CLE course on Consumer Bankruptcy. Jacob was also part of a constitutional law research project working with UM Law Prof. Frank Valdes focusing on the U.S. Supreme Court's decisions since 1993.

JENNIFER T. MILLER recently accepted a summer associate position for 2003 with Kluger, Peretz, Kaplan & Berlin, P.A., in Miami. At the end of the fall semester 2002, she completed a judicial internship with U.S. Magistrate Judge John J. O'Sullivan.

MICHAEL S. SCHWAGER has accepted a position as a summer associate at Holland & Knight for 2003.

Miami Law Alumni Want to Know

From all reports, the most avidly read section of the Barrister (for both the printed and the Web site versions) is "Class Notes." The Law School's more than 14,000 alumni want to know what their classmates have been doing—about the awards they've received, high-profile cases they've won, law firms or cities they have moved to, pro bono activities they have undertaken, spouses they have married, etc.

It's easy to ensure that your news gets into the communications network: Just fill out the form below and send it (along with a photograph of yourself, if you like) to Law Alumni Office, University of Miami, P.O. Box 248087, Coral Gables, FL 33124-8087, or classnotes@law.miami.edu.

If you would like to comment on a Barrister article or on an issue of importance to other UM Law grads through a letter to the editor, please send that submission to Assistant Dean Carol Cope at the www.law.miami.edu/classnotes@law.miami.edu.
